Continuation of 2. NOTE: In Paper No. 15 dated June 4, 2003 the newly added limitation to claims 1 and 12 that the "the composition is capable of multiple passes through extrusion or molding" and to newly added claim 20 were not presented in the claims that were finally rejected. The requested amendments to claims 1, 12 and 20 in Paper No. 15 dated June 3, 2003 and Paper No. 17 dated June 17, 2003 have broaden the scope of the impact modifier that was finally rejected directed to a multi-stage squentially produced polymer comprising at least three stages in a sequence of a nonpolymeric first stage, an elastomeric second stage and a non elastomeric third stage. The requested amendment to claims 1 and 12 in Paper No.17 if entered would over come the 112 issue with respect to thermoplastic matrix comprising a mixture of polyacrymethacrylte and impact modifier. The requested amendments to the claims if entered would require require further condersideration for the impact modifier if entered. Therefore the requested a,mendments in Paper No. 15 dated June 3, 2003 and in Papaer No. 17 dated June 17, 2003 will not be entered of record.
